

Dubai Business Women Council and GoGilvah Partnership

The Dubai Business Women Council has formed a partnership with GoGilvah, an online platform connecting women entrepreneurs with expert consultants, mentors and experienced business leaders through online consultations.

GoGilvah, founded by entrepreneur and DBWC member Gisa Ellis, offers a unique resource of committed, creative and compassionate experts focused on a common purpose – to help women to accelerate in business as well as personally. This supports DBWC’s mission to empower women and motivate them to be productive members of the society and economy

GoGilvah aims to provide business women with easy access to tailored, solution oriented, valuable expert advice without them having to travel to the professional. Women can receive advice on all aspects from creating a marketing plan to building an international strategy to training and managing a leading team.

We encourage our members to use the GoGilvah platform to access expert advice online on all aspects of business and to also register as professional consultants or mentors on the site
